Dear Keith:

As we agreed, I am enclosing herewith two fully executed copies of the agreement between Flora Rheta Schreiber, Dr. Cornelia B. Wilbur and Shirley A. Mason. We are retaining one copy for our files.

Needless to say, I will keep you posted with respect to whatever progress is made in connection with this matter. I have enjoyed working with you on this and hope we will have the opportunity to work together again.

Kind regards.

Sincerely yours,

Kenneth P. Norwick

Dear Pat:

This is to confirm what has been verbally agreed in good faith between us: to wit, that Cowles Book Company and its parent corporation, Cowles Communications, Inc., will not make known or reveal in the promotion, publicity, and/or advertising of SYLVIA the actual name of the book's subject, Shirley Mason.

Consistent with this intention, we will also exercise all reasonable caution and discretion with respect to the use of Miss Mason's name within our internal bailiwick.

My best wishes.

Yrs.

Dear Dr. Wilbur:

This letter was privately written within the Cowles Company, and it is as much of a promise as we can ever obtain about keeping the identity of a subject quiet. I don't think you need have any fear about Cowles publicizing the name Shirley Mason in any regard. Everything will be done to protect the real identity of the subject.

Yours,

Patricia Schartle
